FOR RELEASE : NOON 18 OCTOBER 1976

INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES, JULY 1976

MAIN FEATURES

- In July 1976, there were 1,673,000 working days lost as a result of 168 industrial disputes involving 1,625,000 workers.
- The number of workers involved was the highest on record and the working days lost the highest except for March 1974 when over 2 million working days were lost.
- Stoppages over Medibank in all States and Territories resulted in a loss of an estimated 1,574,000 working days. This was in addition to a loss of 483,000 working days in June because of the same issue.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

This bulletin contains statistics of industrial disputes for the month of July 1976 and some previous periods. More information about these disputes will appear later in the detailed quarterly bulletin Industrial Disputes (Reference No. 6.6). The quarterly bulletins also include statistics for earlier periods.

2. The statistics of industrial disputes are compiled according to the Australian Standard Industrial Classification (ASIC), described in the Bureau publication Australian Standard Industrial Classification (Preliminary Edition), 1969, Vol. 1.

3. The statistics of industrial disputes refer only to disputes involving stoppages of work of ten man-days or more. Workers involved include workers directly and indirectly involved in disputes. Workers indirectly involved are those thrown out of work at the establishments where the stoppages occurred, but who are not themselves parties to the dispute. Particulars of some stoppages (e.g. those involving a large number of establishments) may have been estimated and the statistics therefore should be regarded as giving a broad measure of the extent of stoppages of work (as defined).

4. Stoppages of work occurring at different times and at different establishments, but having a common cause may be regarded as one industrial dispute. However, an industrial dispute occurring in more than one State is counted as a separate dispute in each State. Disputes not settled at the end of a year are included as new disputes in the figures for the following year. The monthly statistics refer to all disputes operative in the month, including those disputes that commenced in previous months. In Table 1 details of the number of disputes and workers involved are shown separately for disputes beginning in the month and for all disputes. Average days lost per worker involved on a monthly basis are not comparable with the yearly averages, because workers involved are included in each month in which they are involved in disputes, while they are counted once only for each dispute in the annual figures. Any discrepancies between totals and sums of components are due to rounding.

NOTE. Inquiries concerning these statistics may be made in Canberra by telephoning Mr Godfrey Laurie on 52 6573 or, in each State capital, by telephoning the office of the Australian Bureau of Statistics.
